A unique opportunity to explore the European markets!

GEOSPATIAL TRADE MISSION TO EUROPE

May 26-June 2, 2007

The purpose of the trade mission is to provide Geospatial companies with a unique platform to identify and secure new business relationships and opportunities in Europe. Pre-qualified, individual appointments with potential partners will be arranged.

Our meetings will be arranged around The European Navigation Conference (ENC-GNSS), which focuses on both the present status and future developments in navigations systems. The conference brings together the scientific community, private sector and international navigational organizations with the goal of sharing research ideas and promoting development in the field of navigation.

For more information on the conference, please visit www.timenav07.org.

To register or for details on the trade mission, please contact Adam Murray with Mississippi Development Authority at (601) 359-5766 or by email at amurray@mississippi.org.
